

CPM is an independently-owned advisory and project management consultancy delivering value across the entire project lifecycle to governments, asset owners and project owners in the infrastructure and building sectors. The focus for this role will be in the client side Buildings and Property sectors.

Due to business growth, we are seeking a talented and collaborative client-side Project Managers with 3+ years minimum and upwards, post graduate reputable industry experience in Buildings, Property and Construction.

Project Managers and Senior Project Manager – Client-Side Consultancy ‘Buildings, Property & Advisory Consultancy’

As an important part of the Team, the Project Manager will need to be passionate about living the company’s values:

Area of Responsibility:

- Delivering and performing assigned project work to a high level of professionalism, experience, capability and accuracy;
- Maintaining capability and qualifications via any required ongoing training/continued professional development.

Key Features for the Role:

- Technical skill in the delivery of Client Side Project Management Consulting Services, representing CPM in all matters to successfully deliver the consulting services in line with CPM’s and the client’s company policy and plans
- Your experience described in your resume should reflect client-side project management consultancy and Superintendent / Superintendent Representative services over the last 3+ years minimum and upwards in a building sector. Education, Health, Commercial & Industrial experience is favourable.
- Undertake the project role in a diligent and professional manner that serves the best interest of the project, client and CPM. Actively regularly and often communicates with client
- Skills and experience in early project phases of Client Brief Development, Feasibility, Business Case; to project planning & design team management; through to project delivery and contract superintendency.
- Project advisory skills are desirable
- Implementing compliance with CPM, Client, and legislative systems and policies on Projects
- Skills in pre-building contract such as Business Case preparation, PPR development, project planning, and similar are advantageous for the more senior applicants
- A dedication to build their own business network of contacts & clients; to utilise this network in coordination with CPM; to assist CPM to win work

Employment Benefits:

- Competitive Remuneration Package
- Health and Wellness programs including access to an Employee Assistance Program
- Ongoing on the job training and professional learning & development opportunities
- Flexibility re working locations: Head Office at Ipswich Qld, Project Offices at Fortitude Valley and onsite at Client locations
- Joining a growing company with significant opportunity for the right applicants

If interested in learning more please email an application letter and resume to employment@cpmpl.com.au and we will contact you.